PHYSICAL EDUCATION. † Equals at the squire s table after the withdrawal of the ladies, at the farmers market-ordinary, and at the village ale-house, the topic which, after the political question of the day, excites perhaps the most general interest, is the management of animals. Riding home from hunting, the con versation is pretty sure to gravitate towards horsebreeding, and pedigrees, and comments on this or that good point; while a day on the moors i8 very unlikely to pass without something being said on the treatment of dogs. When crossing the fields together from church, the tenants of adjacent farms are apt to pass from criticisms on the sermon to criticisms on the weather, the crops, and the stock; and thence to slide into discussions on the various kinds of fodder and their feeding qualities. Hodge and Giles, after comparing notes over their respective pig-styes, show by their remarks that they have been more or less observant of their masters beasts and sheep; and of the effects produced on them by this or that kind of treatment. Nor is it only among the rural population that the regulations of the kennel, the 6table, the cowshed, and the sheep-pen, are favourite subjects. In towns, too, the numerous artisans who keep clogs, the young men who are ricli enough to now and then indulge their sporting tendencies, and their more staid seniors who talk over agricultural progress or read Mr. Mechi s...
