Briefing Section I Background Civilian federal agencies and departments involved in peace operations carry out a variety of activities. Among the civilian agencies and departments, the Department of State and the U. S. Agency for USAID) have the largest roles, both financially International Development (and programmatically. DOD The State Department is one of the two lead agencies (is the other) responsible for planning and implementing U. S. peace operations. In addition, the State Department pays the United Nations for the U. S. -assessed share of U. N peacekeeping budgets as well as additional voluntary contributions. State also provides funding to other organizations to support multinational forces, provide police monitors, enforce economic sanctions, and assist with refugees. USAID provides humanitarian assistance through U. N. and private organizations and directly to individual countries in the form of food, medical care, and other humanitarian and economic recovery assistance. USAID Agencies like and the Department of Agriculture participate in these operations based on humanitarian needs. Their programs are often USAID supports an conducted in concert with peace operations. In Haiti, expanded feeding program and extended health services implemented through private voluntary organizations. It also supports efforts to help small farmers. In fiscal year 1995, it is sponsoring programs in 21 countries. However, not every effort is undertaken to support U. S. or U. N. -led peace operations. We excluded the costs of those programs unrelated to ongoing peace operations. For example, the United States has supported U. N. peacekeeping forces in Israel since 1948. However, we did USAID program to provide...
